About Me

Tameika Harris is a wife, mother, serial-preneur and lifelong learner. She has studied at Vance Granville Community College for Cosmetology, Strayer University for Business Administration, Liberty University for Cultural Engagement and FIST – Free and Independent School of Theology for Biblical Studies.

Tameika Harris enjoys pouring into individuals all across the United States and abroad through such avenues as: self-development mentorship, workshops/seminars, leadership coaching and career consulting. She loves setting individuals ablaze so that, they too, can boldly own their assignments, amplify their voice, walk in authority and rule in the areas of influence in which they are called to Champion.

Her assignment and Areas of Grace, Wisdom and Knowledge are within the Sphere of Leadership, Business, Self-Empowerment and Relationships. Her passion and drive to build, push and fortify others is illuminated and put at the forefront of all she does and it is seen through each and every encounter she has with others. When she steps in the room whether physically and/or virtually, her only mission and mindset is to do the Will of the Father, Love Others as she loves herself and to Feed His Sheep with truth.
